Although the firm is young; it is backed by a wealth of knowledge. In reference to past projects, Van Lissick Enterprise has partnered with other established consulting firms to provide construction inspection and quality and assurance services to MDA/City of Clinton's water and sewer municipal extension project for the Continental Tire Company (Bolton, MS). Currently, the firm is working as a sub-consultant in the Dallas-Fort Worth, TX (Metropolitan) area. In February 2019, Van Lissick Enterprise worked with Fortson Developers, LLC and received preliminary plat approval for Hico Hills subdivision (Jackson, MS). Nicholson will continue to bid projects that match his firm's scope of work and expertise.

Nicholson explained what differentiates his company within the construction industry. "I have a wealth of experience as a civil engineer/project manager and more than 10 years of experience as a small-town mayor (Terry, MS). Overall, I am qualified to approach the infrastructure, environmental, and public policy concerns of client projects," he said.

As a small business owner, Nicholson stresses the importance of being patient and focused on the goals of your business. "Rome was not built in a day. Take your business and clients seriously and make a concerted effort each day to provide the best services," said Nicholson.
